

2-3E. How to Search for books and periodicals in other university or institute libraries.

NACSIS Webcat (<http://webcat.nii.ac.jp/>)

Webcat Plus (<http://webcatplus.nii.ac.jp/>) (for searching by contents)

NACSIS Webcat is a system for searching the union catalog database of books and journals held by the libraries of universities and other institutions.

[How to Access]

There are two ways.

- Click NACSIS Webcat at Nagoya University Library's web site.
- Enter the keyword and click NACSIS Search button at OPAC.

[How to Search]

- Enter the search word(s) (for multiple words, insert space between words), and click Search button.
- The screen changes to a citations summary screen with the names of books and periodicals.
- Click on a title to see more details (bibliographical data) and a list of libraries holding the title. (Citation details)

[Notes for Search]

Please add an asterisk () at the end of a word when you search the periodical with only abbreviated its name (wildcard searches). For example, if you will search "J. Bus. Res.", you enter "jou bus* res*". "J" means Journal or Journals. You cannot do a wildcard search on a single letter, such as "j*".

<If you find other university library holding of your interesting books by NACSIS-Webcat >

Nearby University library ⇒ You can visit.

If you are required to bring a letter of introduction, please contact the Inter-Library Loan Desk in advance.

Remote University library ⇒ Inter Library Loan.

You can get copies of article or borrow books from other library. Such service called inter-library loan service is usually available through your school or department library.

Please take a note the NC-ID (f.e. (AA11035818), (BA62445542)) and ISSN or ISBN.
These numbers will help to identify the book or the periodical.

<Search ambiguous themes : Webcat Plus...Associative search >

When searching ambiguous themes, Webcat Plus' associative search function can help you find the proper books. This search method uses your search keywords to extract other words having a high association with them. Webcat Plus then conducts a thorough search that includes books listed under these associated words. You can paste long texts such as sentence in articles. You may view details (content description, table of contents, bibliography) of books.

- 1 In the website of Nagoya University Library : Click the Webcat Plus on the top page.
- 2 Enter keyword or text in white text box, and click the Search button.

Next Step

When there are no holdings on result list of NACSIS-Webcat and WebcatPlus, please search other online catalog of Japanese or foreign libraries.

In the website of Nagoya University Library,

1. Click 【Database】 tab, and see "online catalog".
2. Click ◆Academic Resource Cabinet, and see 所蔵目録\(国内\) (Japanese library) or 所蔵目録\(海外\) (foreign library).

Searching for special books, such as rare books catalogs, Japanese books printed before Edo era, etc., please look for the printed reference (新収洋書総合目録, 国書総目録, catalog of the other libraries.), as well..
